Pastor's Corner

This past week Yellow Trucking Company announced that they will be shutting down. Yellow started Oklahoma as a cab company with model "T's", and has been in operation for almost a 100 years. The resulting shutdown is estimated to cost roughly 30,000 jobs. This is expected to send reverberations throughout the economy as other companies such as Meta (Facebook) are also laying off thousands of jobs. The impact of these layoffs are said will be felt by all Americans as supply lines shrink once again.

If this was an isolated event that happened because of bad management, it's one thing, but when it seems like just another straw tossed on the camel's back, it can feel like everything is collapsing around us. And it might very well be. It might very well be that we are in the twilight of what was once the greatest Republic that man has ever established. It might be that the greatness that was blessed by God on the USA has been pulled back because in our glory, we have been led away from our true Founder who establishes all kingdoms by his will (Daniel 2:21).

"The greatest need of our age and of every age, the greatest need of every human heart, is to know the resources and sufficiency of God."

- A. B. Simpson

But this is where the Christian has hope, while others reel at the possibility of colossal change. For the entire course of human history, kings have risen and fallen. Kingdoms and governments of all kinds, from monarchies to dictatorships, to democracies, and republics, they have been founded and swept away to history. Yet, yet God endures, and those who trust him endure. They are brought from age to age, from ruler to ruler, through water and fire, to be established again and again, by the mighty power of their God.

Beloved of Christ, trust in your Savior, he is working things out, for his purposes and your good. Though the economy crashes, though your representatives create for themselves scandals, though it looks like corruption and deceit fester, our God is mighty and he is in control. He calls us to trust, and when we do, we will see the great things he has. Unlike the people around us who trust in the things of this world that fail, we have El Shaddai, the God who is our fortress. We have El Roi, the God who sees our plights. We trust in El Olam, the Everlasting God. We believe in El Ezri, the God who helps. We look to El Elyon, the God who is higher than anything other power. We lean on El Gibbor, who is the might warrior who battles for us. We know El Go'el, our Redeemer in all circumstances. And we worship El Jireh, the God who provides for us.

We trust in, our Father in Heaven, in Jesus our Savior, and in the indwelling Holy Spirit, the Only God who created, sustains, saves, and works to bring us into his eternal life. No matter, the government, nor leaders or representatives, it is HE, the Living God, who is our Sustainer and our Savior. So be a light, my brothers and sisters, to those who have no hope, because you have what they need, a right relationship with Yahweh. So in times of trouble, and there will be many, be light to direct them to what they need, Jesus. Amen.

Teen Mission Trip to Arizona Eagle Creek Retreat: A Journey of Hard Work, Love, and Miracles.

Summary:

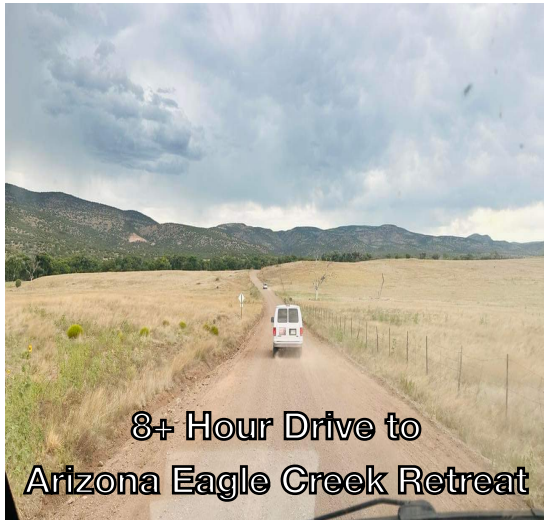

During the "out of town missions trip" to Eastern Arizona, a group of teens embarked on a journey to Arizona Eagle Creek Retreat on Monday the 17th. The drive to the retreat was beautiful, and upon arrival, they eagerly began their work to clear various areas of the property. Mary Kay and the other leaders helped to make this an amazing time. They put in great work daily in providing meals and direction. The teens worked diligently, bringing the ministry one step closer to its first phase of opening. Their efforts helped pave the way for future plans and accomplishments. On another note of more sacrificial love Jeremiah stayed with me every step of the way as I thought I was going home to glory lol. Later I found out it was a devilish scorpion who stung me in the middle night just like our spiritual enemies likes to attack while we are down. Lol. Our group had great determination remained steadfast. We also were able to visualize the bright future of the ministry during a guided tour of the property. The experience left us in awe of the ongoing miracles the Lord was performing, ensuring many eternal fruits for the ministry. We were all grateful for the opportunity to be part of God's great work. The teen mission group expressed their thankfulness and we request that you stay in ongoing prayers as almost all of them continue to face ongoing battles.

Bible Verse: "And we know that in all things God works for the good of those who love him, who have been called according to his purpose." - Romans 8:28 (NIV) love, and miraculous experiences. It reminds me of the verse from Romans 8:28, which reassures us that God works for the good of those who love Him and are called according to His purpose. Throughout this trip, we witnessed how God's hand was guiding every step, turning challenges into opportunities and obstacles into blessings.

The retreat's ongoing miracles symbolize the continuous work God is doing in our lives and in the world. We may not always comprehend His plans, but we can be sure that His ways are higher than our ways. As we witnessed the unfolding of this wonderful ministry, we are reminded that God's timing and purposes are perfect. Each step we take in faith, no matter how small it may seem, plays a significant role in His grand plan

Thank you all for your dedication to this much needed ministry.

With Love, Tony and Team

Looking Towards the Future

When I've asked what would be something that we could physically improve at the church facilities to make it better, there was always three things: More space for kids, more fellowship space, and more bathroom space. We have accomplished the kid space, we working on the fellowship space, by expanding our foyer area, but due to a water break under our concrete slab, our attention changed to renovating the restrooms.

We began this renovating last winter by contacting a local contractor to do the renovation because there was going to be a lot of saw cutting. When the contractor informed us that ADA was changed, we realized that our initial remodel idea was not going to work. So we expanded it to pop out the back wall of the main building and adding four new stalls for both restrooms.

This brought up an issue with the town and what should have began in April, took until July 25th to resolve. But now we are on track, except, instead of being a focus of the contractor over the summer, we are now having to work within his schedule. If you return before November, you'll be subject to one bathroom for everyone, located in the office area. If you come after November, you'll have a brand new space to enjoy.

So PRAISE God, that things are getting accomplished, not just physically, with a building, but spiritually as well. Be safe on your travels, and God bless. - In Christ's Grip, Jeremiah
